DEDICATION

The ninth president of Elmhurst College, Dr. Robert C. Stanger, has been associated with the College much longer than his eight years as president. As his father was a member of the Elmhurst faculty, he was born and raised on the campus and was thus instilled with a sincere interest in it. He graduated from Elmhurst College in 1918 and received further education from Eden Seminary, Yale Divinity School, and the University of Chicago. Before assuming the duties of president, Dr. Stanger served as a minister at three prominent churches and as a teacher of religion and ancient history on this campus.

Since assuming the Presidency of Elmhurst College in August 1957, Dr. Stanger has continued in his sincerity to bring Elmhurst to its greatest potential. The initiation of the Decade of Development under his administration is an outstanding example of his many accomplishments. As President he has performed the varied duties of his office with efficiency and genuine interest.

To you, Dr. Stanger, we dedicate the 1965 ELMS in acknowledgment of the leadership you have given Elmhurst College during your years as her President.

The faculty and administration through their diverse interests are sources of information and guidance for the Elmhurst student in his academic and social ventures.

ACTIVITIES

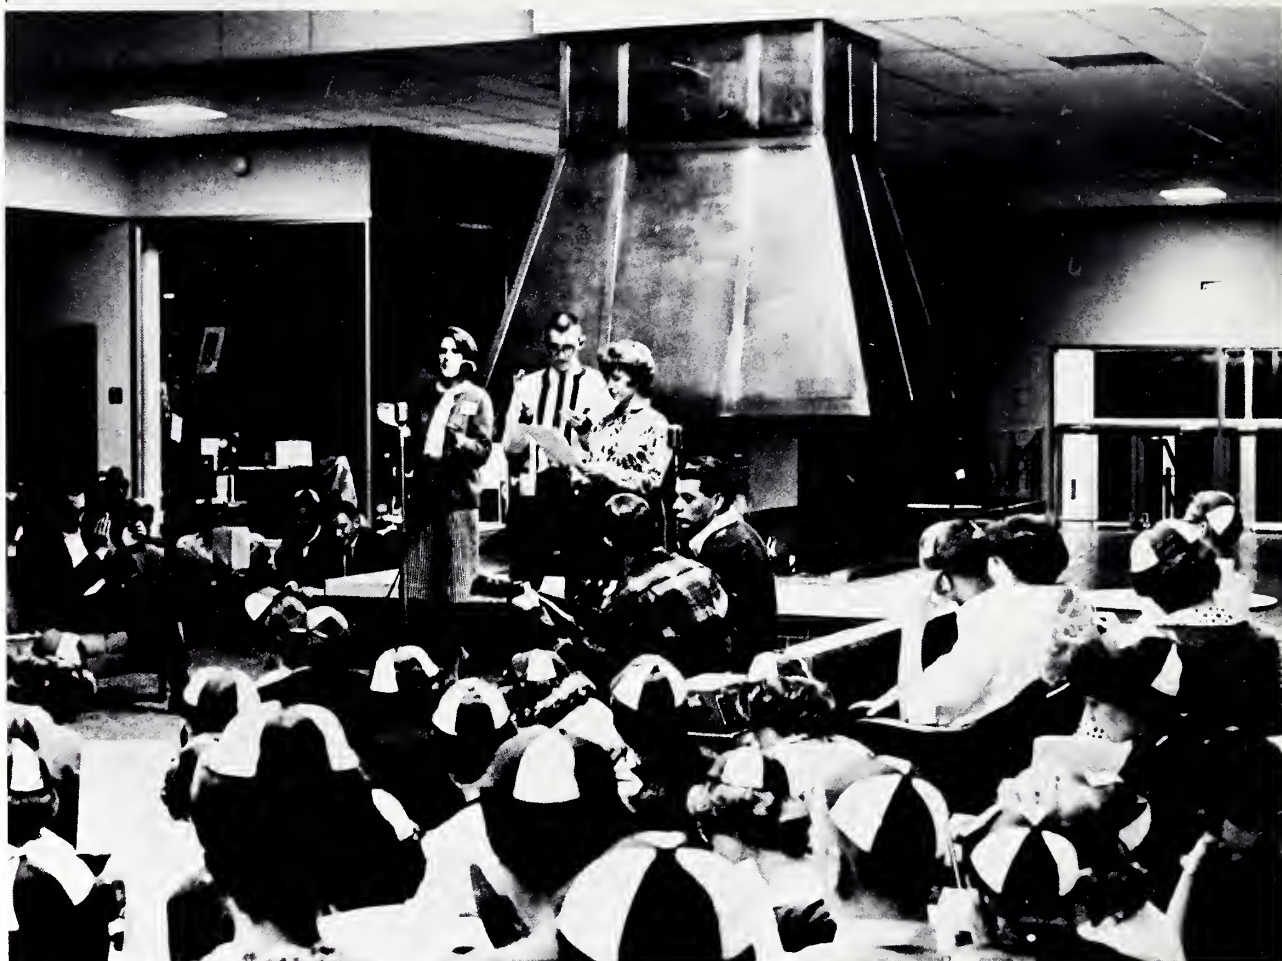

Many activities - all geared to the various student body interests - are to be found each year at Elmhurst College.

The school year begins with Freshman Week in the fall, and then the traditional Homecoming Weekend. In the winter are many events, most important of all the festivities of the Christmas season. Spring brings Bachelor's Holiday, followed by such occasions as Parent's Weekend, the E.I.I., the Women's Union Circus, the Junior Prom, and, most important to seniors, graduation.

Throughout the year there are also a number of dances, concerts, films, and assemblies, all a very important part of life at Elmhurst College.

Cindy Raitt, Ron Wilde, and Marty Uthlaut lead the "green" frosh in an opening hootenanny.

FROSH MEET E.C.

Three eager frosh look over the campus on opening day. It was exciting to move into new surroundings and to meet new people.

The start of a new school year is anticipated most, perhaps, by the frosh coming to the college campus for the first time. The frosh, with their blue and white beanies, are looking forward to four years of study and a degree. But before the study, the freshman must be orientated to the campus and college life. After numerous tests, discussions, and the convocations, there were myriads of dances, games and bull sessions.

Frosh week committee once again challenged the frosh to a tug of war. Although the frosh won during orientation week, the sophomores won later on in the year.

SOCIAL LIFE PRESENTS....

The LETTERMEN, a nationally famous recording group, sing out in their Socail Life Concert which was an evening full of fine entertainment.

A capacity audience burst out in applause when the SERENDIPITY SINGERS entertained with "Beans in Your Ears" and "Don't Let the Rain Come Down" in the second Social Life Concert of the year.

This year's homecoming show gave students and staff the opportunity to reveal their hidden talents.

The two biggest "hams" of the show, Mr. Gentry and Mrs. Grant caused the audience to "squeal" with delight.

Displays incorporating nursery rhymes carried out this year's theme "Forever Young." The commuters once again won the trophy for the best display.

Following the homecoming show, a pep rally "fired up" the team.

Students and Alumni enjoyed an evening together amid an atmosphere of castles and flaming torches.

AT

Squires throw a week-end party and invite the visiting school of Carthage College over after the game for fun and dancing.

Student-Faculty basketball game brings an unusual group of student cheerleaders as regulars Marty Uthlaut, Beth Schmiechen, and Sue Vorhees are joined by Lee Marinaccio, Scott Stratton and Wally Pelczynski.

With a specially designed set providing the background, John Pantermuehl and Carol Amosky entertain the campus in Tennessee Williams' "A Streetcar Named Desire."

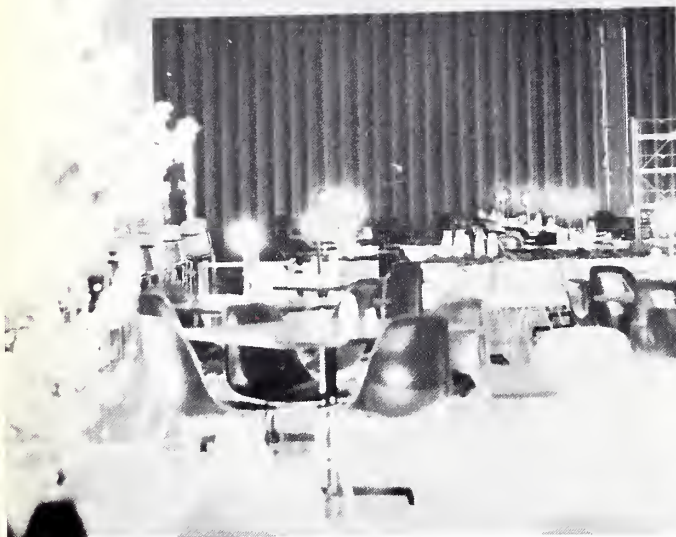

Jan Urbank and Ann Gonser are deeply engrossed in trying to solve a problem in the language laboratory.

WORK... AT PLAY...

Mr. Honour hosts firesides for a group of students which proves to be an evening of lively discussion.

Inga entertained students and faculty in one of her fabulous dress-up dinners.

After the Christmas dress-up dinner, The Madrigal Singers from the University of Illinois, Navy Pier Division, presented a seldom heard selection of choral numbers.

The night before vacation, not a creature was stirring in chapel as the Polyhymnia presented an interpretive dance of "Silent Night."

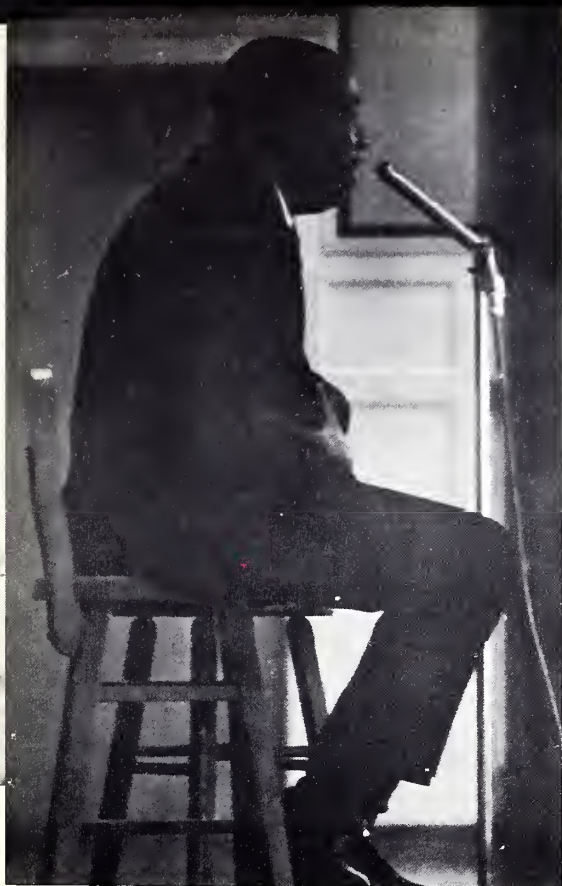

"Uncle Pete" Langhorst as Santa Claus presented faculty members with their Christmas gifts.

CHRISTMAS !!

This year Choral Union, directed by T. Howard Krueger presented Handel's "Messiah" for their annual Christmas Oratorio. Dr. James Wyly and Mrs. T. Krueger accompanied the group.

Dick Gregory talked with many of the people who attended his lecture afterwards in the lounge of the union. He answered questions of the group and also elaborated on some of his views.

COMEDIANS TO

Comedian Dick Gregory spoke in his usual casual manner about civil rights, an extremely controversial subject.

Dr. Bob Bradbury captivated his audience with his lecture on "Playboy's View of Sex." Many private discussions followed in the dorms after his presentation.

A Pulitzer Prize Winner, Gwendolyn Brooks renewed student interest in poetry with her readings and comments.

Many speakers from all different walks of life visited our campus this year and spoke about issues which were significant for the student body and for the community. Several presentations on civil rights were given while others spoke on "Playboy's View of Sex", poetry, mountain climbing, and the plight of the Democratic Party in predominately Republican DuPage County. Some of the people who spoke on campus are pictured on these two pages and are representatives of many others who inspired students and faculty and stimulated serious thought among them.

Jerry Ziegler, a Democratic candidate in Republican DuPage County, spoke about his political party and his fight for office.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS!

Dr. David Dingman told of his exciting participation in the latest American expedition up Mount Everest. All who heard the lecture left the Chapel filled with deep admiration for Dr. Dingman and the others in the expedition.

SNOW CAME . . .

Kathy Darlas gets ready to throw a snowball at her roommate in the lower right hand corner.

The new College Union Building with the large copper fireplace provided hours of refuge from the cold winter air.

While Kathy was getting ready to throw a snowball, Ellen Simchuk, her roommate was also packing one to throw back. There is a fight in the making.

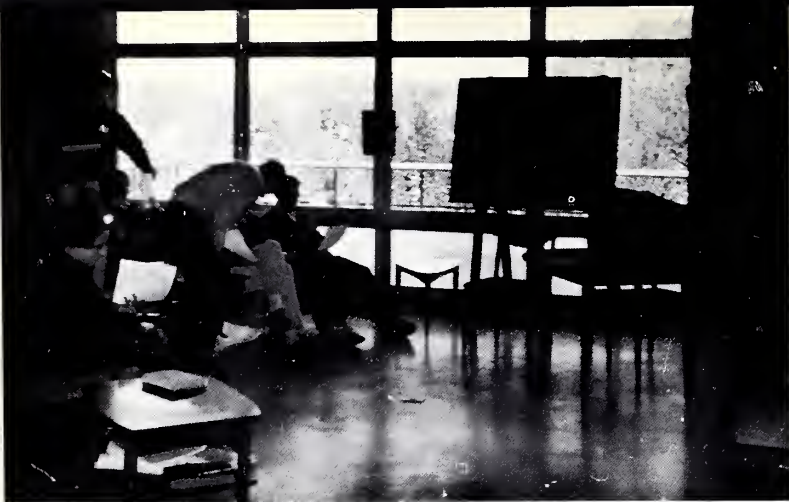

Between nine and ten o'clock classes, students often stop to chat in spite of the snow and the cold winter air.

... TO CAMPUS

As snow falls on Schick Hall, several girls seem to be rushing back to keep their hair from getting too straight.

Rev. Bob McDonald prepares to lecture the Greenlake retreaters on the theme, "You and Me."

The Rev. Bob McDonald led this year's Religious Life Retreat at Green Lake, Wisconsin, on the theme: "You and Me." The retreaters searched their hidden selves in order to find out who they were and, at the same time, searched others for the same reason. They were trying to discover means to communicate with all people by understanding both the other person and themselves.

Despite temperatures ranging to twenty below zero, the southern Wisconsin countryside provided the group with midnight hikes, toboggan rides and many snowball fights. After an hour or two outside, everyone was ready to sit around the fire, sing hymns and play indoor games till the early hours of the morning.

DISCOVER "YOU AND ME"

Lou Colvis and the Denisons provide an evening of song after which Paul Anderson called in a lively square dance session.

After the call came out from Martin Luther King, Jr., to join in a part of what was to be an historic civil rights demonstration, campus leaders immediately started to organize a group of students and faculty members to go to Selma, Alabama. In a matter of two days, there was a list of over twenty students who were willing to leave school at a moments notice for Alabama. Finally the time was set and the students and faculty members left, but those who stayed behind were also going to do their part. They organized a sympathy demonstration which was held in downtown Elmhurst. Over one hundred students and town's people marched to the courthouse to hear the mayor and a student, Harv Morris, speak.

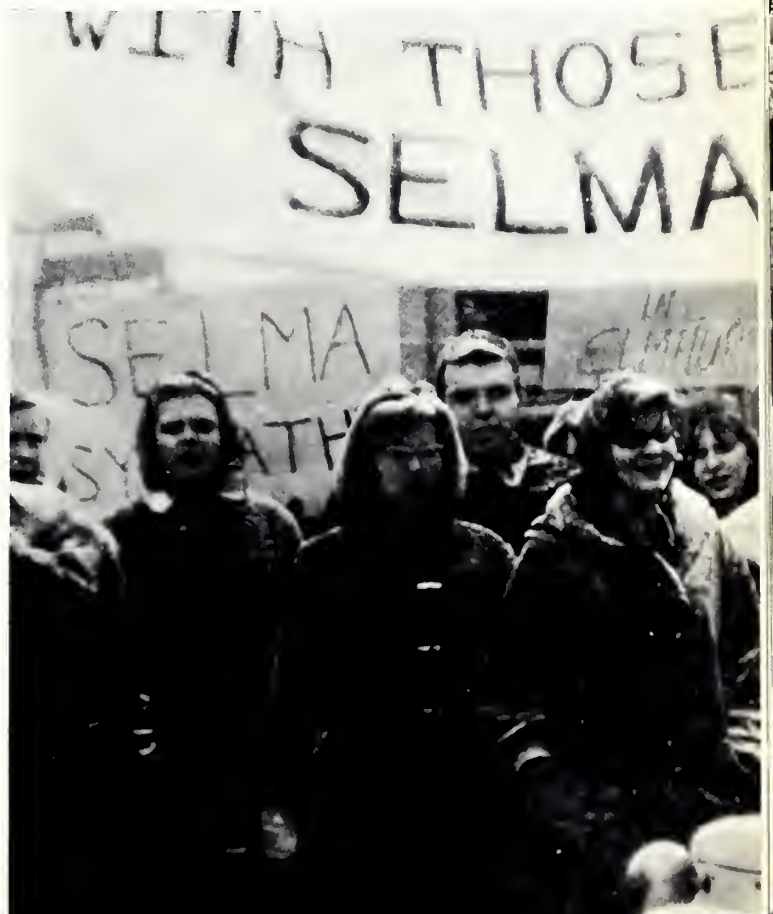

Dr. Couchman, Elmhurst faculty member, talks to the sympathy demonstrators at the city hall.

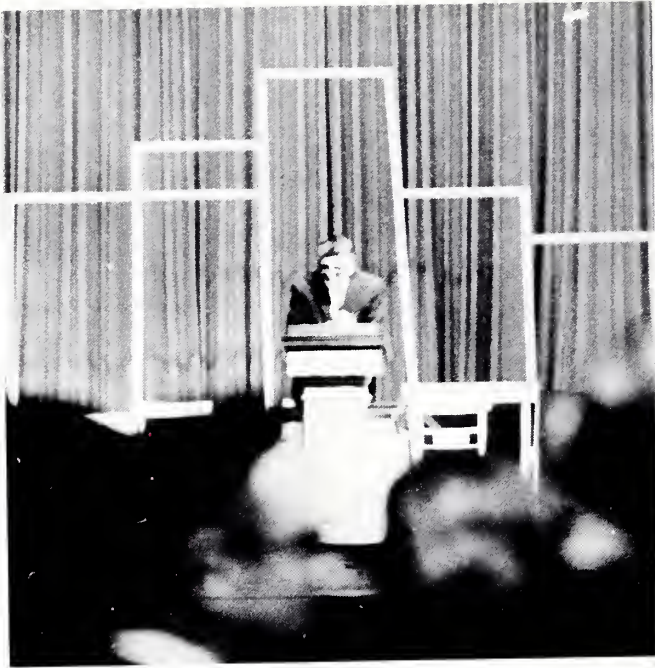

WE MARCHED TOWARD EQUALITY!

The march complete with police escort proceeds toward downtown Elmhurst.

Students and town's people sing freedom songs as they stand at the city hall.

"God Needs Men," the theme of the Religious Emphasis Period, was chosen to emphasize the fact that people too often view the Church as a shelter or bulwark behind which hide. Christian commitment to act for the Church rather than to build a fortress around it was stressed.

Highlights of the Period were "Monsieur Vincent," a French film about a priest's work with the poor, "Black Like Me," a speech on the book of the same name by John Howard Griffin; "For Heaven's Sake," a student-directed musical satire by Helen Kromer; and a Chapel Service Sermon by Chaplain Schieler.

John Howard Griffin spoke to a packed chapel as he opened Religious Emphasis Week with Black Like Me.

"GOD NEEDS MEN"

The Verdict of One was presented by Carole Stevenson, Lee Marinaccio, Bill Wood, Bob Mutton, Gary Friebeus, Peter Vestal, Chuck Lockyear, Charles Meyer, and Charles Rondi.

Sandra Silverberg, Marty Krage, John Bettman, Neal Nicolay, Jan Pedersen, and Randy Brakemeyer are in a state of repose as Lois Helm sings "I Can't Stand to See Pain" in the musical satire "For Heaven's Sake."

The chorus of For Heaven's Sake praises "man from whom all blessings flow."

The opening event of Bachelor's Holiday was a wheel chair basketball game.

SENIOR BANQUET

Dr. Stanger, President of the college.

Mr. Baumrucker, President of the Alumni Association.

Dr. Low, Advisor to the Class of 1965.

Richard Kroll, President of the Class of 1965.

SPEAKERS

At the close of their fourth year at Elmhurst College, the seniors join in a banquet inaugurating them into a new role as alumni of Elmhurst College. This is one of the last big events for seniors as they come together for a formal dinner accompanied by reminiscing, speech-making and looking ahead to the years to come.

In appreciation of the guidance he has provided, Dr. Donald R. Low is presented with a gift by Dick Kroll.

On one of their last evenings together as a class the seniors enjoy a fine dinner in CUB's private dining room.

BACCA-

Guest Preacher for the morning was Dr. Nolte, head of the department of Homiletics at Eden Seminary, Webster Groves, Missouri.

On the morning of Sunday, June 5, 1965, the seniors assembled in their robes and processed into Hammerschmidt Chapel for the Baccalaureate Service. At this solemn occasion they listened to words of wisdom and encouragement to send them on past the doors of Elmhurst College.

LAUREATE

The graduates assemble to listen to the Baccalaureate sermon.

The graduates process past friends and relatives on graduation afternoon.

Graduation Day is a day to be looked forward to for all college students. Finally it has come for the Class of 1965; on Sunday, June 6, 1965, they gathered for the pomp and ceremony of graduation. Each student has earned his diploma and this is the time for congratulations to be sounded as he formally receives it. After the afternoon is over, the graduates are no longer considered college students and now they have greater responsibilities and graduation becomes something to be remembered.

GRADUATION

The Mall provides an ideal setting on a sunny Sunday afternoon for the momentous occasion of graduation.

Dr. Stanger delivers graduation address.

DAY

Congratulations Bobbi!

Congratulations Jerry!

The seniors go up to receive diplomas and happily descend as Elmhurst College graduates.

ATHLETICS

The passing of another year has brought growing prestige to Elmhurst athletics. Unlike the losing records of the past, the 1964-65 Jays finished with six winning teams and only two losing ones. Cross Country, the often forgotten sport, stands out as the team with the best record of the year--13 - 1, followed closely by football's 7 - 2 record. Special recognition must be given to each coach for his devoted interest in his team as players as well as students and individuals. The cheerleaders and their sponsor, likewise, deserve special recognition for their enthusiastic work. Recording another victorious season for the Jays gives Elmhurst an even brighter future in athletics.

Coach Harris again must be congratulated for coming up with a winning season, especially the fourth quarter victory over the undefeated Winona State. Lead by tri-captains Miller, Kroll, and Hotle, the Jays rushed for an impressive 2412 yards as compared with only 1016 yards for the opponents. Most valuable player was Dave Ek who was also elected team captain for next year along with Harold Schippits.

Lead by freshman Jeff Swartout, the Cross Country team ended with the best record of the year. Jeff finished first for Elmhurst in each of the seven meets of which three were first places for the meet. His best time was 16:36 which was followed by Stahlhut's 16:39, Rock's 16:41, Wolf's 16:44, and Pensyl's 16:59. Most valuable player award went to Swartout. With only one member of the team graduating, Art Rock, next year should be another winning season for the Harriers.

NEW MAT BRINGS VICTORY

Bob Kostal takes down opponent.

Coach Harris used the experienced wrestlers of last year's beginners along with freshman standouts to build a winning team. This year's 8 - 4 record for the matmen will, perhaps, be the turning point for the future success of our wrestlers. Team captain, Jim Harsh, led the victorious team as he wrestled in the 147 weight class. Jim was closely followed by freshman Bob Kostal in points, as Bob will be remembered for his rugged pin against his U. of Chicago opponent. Other standouts were freshman, Gary Tebo; sophomore, Gary Noland; and junior, Hal Schippits. One of the more exciting features of the season was when our matmen placed fourth in the Lake Forest tournament. Coach Harris and the team again must be commended for a good season.

Coach Schousen gives last minute orders to the team.

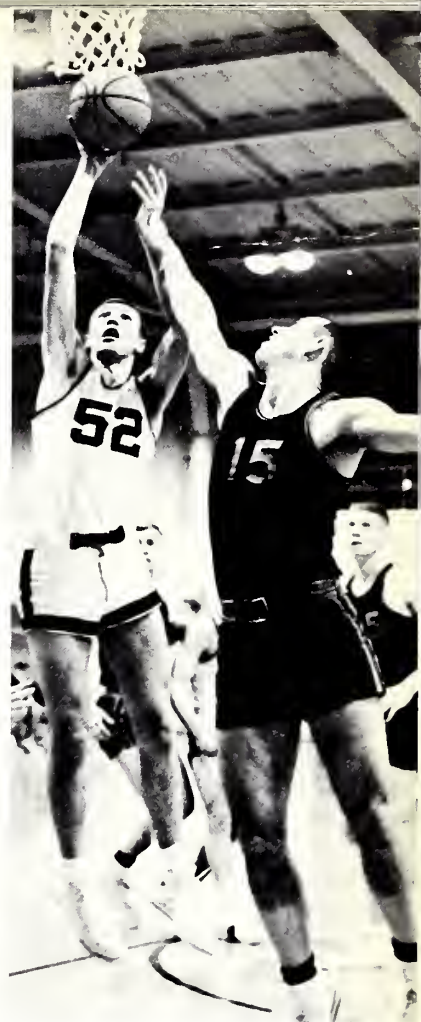

Jays set three new scoring records in a losing season. Leo Boughton set the scoring mark at 43 points against Illinois College only to have it tied by Don Anderman two months later against Lake Forest. Leo also set the field goal record at 21 in his 43 point performance. The high powered offense scored 75.1 points per game while yielding 83.8 points per game to opponents. The Jays shot 61.76% from the line and were led by Don Anderman's 80%, thereby winning the free throw award. Anderman and Boughton were chosen valuable players. The loss of both these players during the season drastically handicapped the Jays - especially Anderman's broken collar bone in the early stages of the season. Boughton led the team's scoring with 404 points and 22.4 points per game average. Next followed Knapp and Dancy with 246 and 223 points respectively. Captain Bruce Murdock again lead the defense and set up the high scoring offense with his dogged playing.

Coach Arends continues to have a winning tennis team as the Netmen were able to defeat both Aurora and St. Procopius twice. Leading the team in both singles and doubles was Paul Kummer and Glen Kistner. As a duet this team was seldom defeated. The second doubles team was Scott Stratton and Bob Kostal, and third team was Mike Jones, Dave Gumper or Gene Stinchcomb. Kummer was number one singles followed by Kistner, Stratton, Kostal, Gumper, Jones, and Stinchcomb. Scott Stratton was elected captain of next year's team.

LINKSTERS WIN 13 OF 22 MATCHES

As Coach Owen said, the golf team must have run into the pro-tour this year. Competition was tough and perhaps out of the Jay's class, especially Normal, Northern, and St. Ambros. The Jays, however, continued their string of winning seasons. Bruce Bullis was the top golfer with a 78 average and was voted MVP as well as captain. Art Zitt was second with 79.9 followed by Warren Singleton's 81, and Lynn Weesner's 88. Ed Beaver received the outstanding putters award, while Steve Boland was chosen next year's captain. The team's record was good enough to compete in the National Tournament in Rockford where over 200 golfers compete. Perhaps our team will reach its peak in the June Tournament.

With only five returning lettermen, the Jays lacked experience toward the opening of the season but gained considerable poise by the end of the campaign. The pitching, which is the cronic weakness for the Pillsockers, became the strength this year as Cliff Ehlinger won 3 and lost 2 with a 5.08 ERA, Cliff Pensyl won 1 and lost 0 with a 3.00 ERA along with several brilliant relief appearances, and Carl Reed won 1 and lost 6 with a 4.00 ERA. Carl was the hard-luck pitcher of the year as he lost a two-hitter to IIT. The anemic bats were paced by Ehlinger's 292, Becker's 256, Peterson's 239, and Litzsinger's 234. Ehlinger led in total hits with 12 as Litzsinger and Becker followed with 11 each. Ehlinger and Litzsinger each hit 6 RBI's while Murdock and Becker each hit 5. Murdock led the team with 8 stolen bases and 16 walks. Most valuable player was Willi Shigetani and honorary captain was Dennis Peterson. The seniors, Dennis Peterson and Bruce Murdock, should be recognized for their invaluable work.

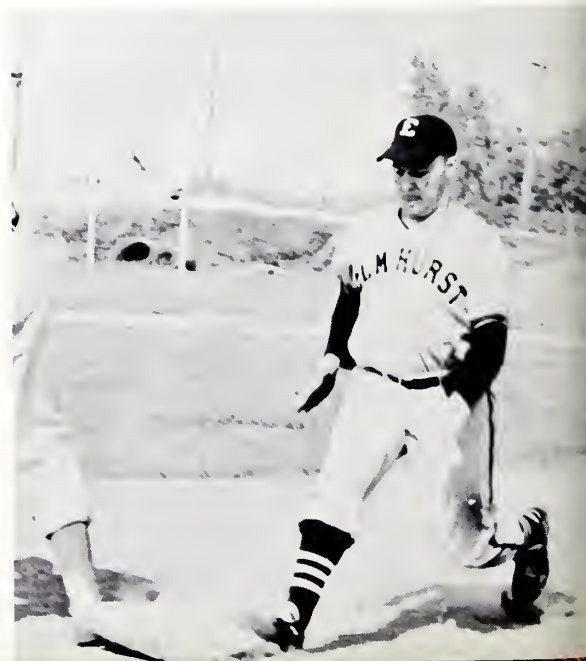

Cliff Pensyl has good cut at fastball.

TRACKMEN BREAK 5 RECORDS

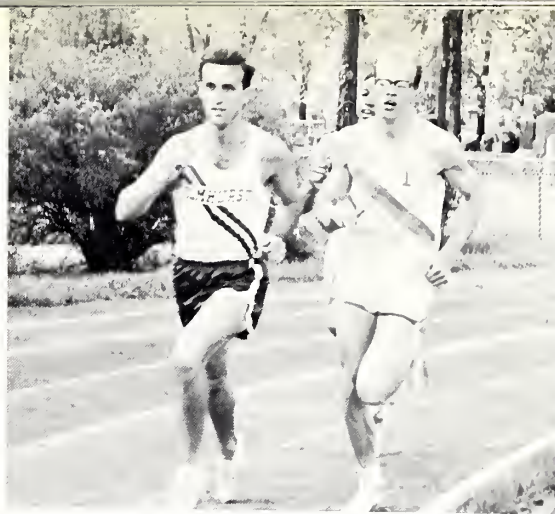

The Cindermen did not display much depth, but what they did have accounted for the setting of five school records. Dave Ek provided the only new field record in the shot put with a 46'2" distance, Lee Wolf broke his own 880 record in a time of 1:56.3, while the 440 relay team (Mark Wissehr, Lee Wolf, John Boland, and John Fulton) set the record with a :44.4 time. The team composed of Don Bello, Don Stahlhut, Mike Shewchuk, and Lee Wolf tied the mile relay record with a 3:25.2 and broke the 2 mile relay with a record time of 8:10.4. For the first time at Elmhurst the intermediate hurdles were run and Mark Wissehr holds the record with a: 41.9. These records as well as the tournaments show the true caliber of our team. The two mile relay team finished first in the Wabash Relays and second in the Beloit Relays; also the Jays finished first in the Chicagoland Independent at Concordia. John Boland, who usually took first, or second places in 100, 220, and broad jump, as well as being anchor man for the 440 relay team, was the most valuable player.

CHEERLEADERS LEAD JAYS TO ANOTHER VICTORIOUS SEASON

Team morale, student enthusiasm, and faculty interest are vital factors to a winning team. These factors were greatly helped this year by the eight hard working, ambitious cheerleaders and their advisor, Judy Wiebke. Besides their cheerleading duties in football and basketball, the cheerleaders organized pep rallies, dances, team receptions and send-offs, and helped develop the athletic image on campus. Sue Henerfauth is the only senior and must be remembered for her faithful service. Along with Sue were one junior, three sophomores, and three freshmen - the youngest squad in years. Youth and vitality gave Elmhurst one of the best squads to cheer our teams to victory.

"E" CLUB MEMBERS

SERVE CAMPUS

Coach Harris and Coach Schousen present Press Publications award to outstanding student - athlete of the year, Dick Kroll.

"E" Club members show athletics can do more for campus than participate in a particular sport. The club sponsored one of the most successful dances of the year - the Playboy Dance, as well as the Kick-Off Dance in September. Other school services include the distribution of programs and ushering for football and basketball, printing of the newsletter, judging events for EII, and organizing the athletic convocation. Of the 86 letter winners, Dick Kroll was selected by Karl Schindl and the coaches as the athlete who contributed most to the student body. The "Hylton-Roberts Award," although not given this year, should prove a definite stimulus for athletic scholarship in the future. Dick Kroll, president of the club, must be congratulated for his leadership. Now, the club looks for strong leadership from next year's president, Cliff Pensyl.

Another successful year in Intramurals saw a growing number of students participate in sports. Irion 2 got off to their winning ways by winning the football championship as well as the highly competitive "A" basketball championship. The Niebuhr Reds (first floor) won the "B" division championship in basketball. Volleyball had two divisions - red and blue - which found Irion Reds (third floor) champion of the first and Niebuhr Colts (second floor) tied with the Squires for winners of the second division. Softball was won by Niebuhr 2. Women's IM. was less extensive, with only basketball and volleyball being played. Shick Sharpshooters won the basketball championship while the Amazons won the volleyball championship.

ORGANIZATIONS

Organizations on Elmhurst's campus found a new asset this year. The College Union Building offered meeting rooms and areas to all organizations who wished to make use of them. More specifically it provided new and better places for the SGA office, the Union Board office, the W.R.S.E. studios, and the "Elm Bark" - Elms office. This building enhanced the workings of E.C. student organizations as the different groups continued to render services and add activity to the campus.

OPERATION

Government within dorms is administered and enforced through these cooperating groups. The Committee of Nine and Judicial Board work strictly with women's government. They may be busy discussing the merits of different rules, whether to enact them or dispose of them. If the punishment fits the crime the Judicial Board may take action. The Inter-Residence Council is a meeting of the minds of the people who administer the separate dorms - a place to discuss problems, get new ideas and bring about co-operation.

All dorms need leadership to plan dorm life and set up regulations for living in the individual dorms. Whether it's planning for an open house, deciding dorm policy, working on a special event, or bringing about co-operation within the dorm, the dorm councils keep busy. Each dorm council is made up of elected officers and representatives to guide the dorm's activities.

TO SERVE

GREATER ELMHURST

GREATER ELMHURST is a relatively new organization. This group had as its main interest the making of Elmhurst into a greater school. They looked for new ways of improving Elmhurst traditions and for new ways of letting other people know what Elmhurst College is all about. It worked very closely with many administrative divisions of our school to further Elmhurst College. One of this group's undertakings was helping to produce a very successful Honors Day and Parent's Week-End. Members of the group seated clockwise around the table are: John Kuechmann, Jack Terrill, Coordinator for Development; Carolyn Stahlhut, Art Kay, Marty Uthlaut, Coordinator for Alumni; Rev. Gieselmann, Director of Alumni Affairs; Barb Dammen, Ed Johnson, Director of Development and Public Relations; Susy Martschinke, Coordinator for Admissions; Mary Ann McPherson, Chads Skinner, Director of Admissions; Kathy Hooton, Secretary; Jim Bracher, Jean Tschudy, Don Smarto, Judy Kessler, Dave Kinsman, and Charles Lockyear, President.

There are three groups on campus which are organized to allow members to discover and discuss topics pertaining to their vocational interest fields. These are the Business Club, the Student National Educational Association and Church Vocations. Each group plans its yearly program to allow students of similar interests to get together and discover what lies ahead for them in their chosen profession.

1964-1965 has been a busy season for The Polyhymnia Women's Choir. They have sung at Chapel services on campus, Christmas and Lenten concerts at local churches and have enjoyed their annual spring tour. The members of Polyhymnia have put forth a lot of work and have gained much in musical knowledge as well as fun and fellowship. The high point of the year for the choir was their spring tour which took them to the World's Fair, Niagara Falls, and the states of Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and Michigan.

THE E.C. BELL CHOIR

Getting ready.

The Elmhurst College Choir is a group of approximately forty mixed voices. As do the other campus vocal groups, the choir also serves both the college and the surrounding community. This year the choir remained several days after the close of school to sing at the graduation exercises. Several of the active members also participate in the organization known as the Bell Choir.

GLEE CLUB

For many years an organized group of men's voices, called the Glee Club, has served the Elmhurst College campus and community in numerous capacities. Under the direction of Mr. David Austin, the group not only serves in regular chapel service worship, but also participates in other campus events. Highpoints of its yearly activities are the annual spring concert and its much enjoyed Christmas caroling.

BAND

Elmhurst's band is a fairly recent addition to the college's numerous organizations. The band's main function during the past year has been to participate at both football and basketball athletic events. Though the band was small in its number of active members, it helped enliven student spirit.

Elmhurst College Band holds an informal practice session.

STUDENTS

"Student days will soon be over for our happy throng." This line from the Alma Mater is especially meaningful for graduating seniors. However, all freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors as they grow and learn in their days at Elmhurst College acquire many lasting friendships and memories. Without the student body there could be no Elmhurst College. The students with all their activities and accompanying exuberance create the real Elmhurst.
